ABOUT ME

I am a self-taught web developer with over a year of experience learning and creating real projects. I trained myself through CodeAcademy platforms, online courses, and by collaborating with other programmers. I have developed websites and applications for various companies and personal projects, which has allowed me to gain practical experience in front-end development, task management, and web design.

Projects

Developers' website

A website for a company that offers web design and development solutions.

Website for construction company

Professional website with service catalogue, gallery, and contact form.

Task manager

Web application for organising personal tasks and projects.
